Award Winning Wilderness Retreat For Sale

Faraway Bay, The Bush Camp is this week being placed on the market for sale.

After 14 years of operation, and a host of accolades and awards, owners Bruce and Robyn Ellison are retiring.

“It’s time to call it quits and hand over the reigns to new owners who can take it to another level,” said Mr Ellison.

“Of course, Robyn and I will be sad to leave because it is such a special place, but we are looking forward to taking a break,” he said.

“In the meantime, it’s business as usual as we prepare for the upcoming season.”

Faraway Bay has built an outstanding local, national and international reputation for tourism excellence, having won three National Tourism Awards, as well as six WA Tourism Awards since opening in 1997.

It also played host to the crew of Australia the movie, starring Nicole Kidman and Hugh Jackman.

Faraway Bay is famous for its series of popular annual events including the Kimberley Cooking Schools in May with Chris Taylor from Fraser’s Restaurant, and the Pete Evans Celebrity Cooking School in September.

The wilderness retreat draws visitors from around Australia and is popular among overseas visitors from the UK, US, Germany, Switzerland and New Zealand.

“We have loyal visitors who return time and again because we sit on one of the few remaining parcels of untouched wilderness in the world,” said Mr Ellison.

Its natural attractions include easy access to the stunning King George Falls, an abundance of ancient rock art, spectacular cliff-lined bays, great fishing, amazing wildlife and beautiful flora.

With a land area of approximately 28ha and water frontage situated in a very unique location, the property lives up to its name.

At present, the property caters a maximum of 12 guests with an option to double its capacity.

The business is offered for sale by tender with vacant possession.
